Undefeated Red Devils First in Conference

MEET & TRIM PELLSTON 71 TO 27. MEET CHARLEVOIX THIS FRIDAY

By Jim Nachazel
Student Council Sports Reporter

Last Friday, our Red Devils went into action trimming Pellston, 71-27, and now place first in the conference cagers. The boys showed a great improvement in their ball handling and the game was moving very fast. Boring and Meredith tied in high point man, each having 17 to their credit. Saxton was second with 11. Wilson of Pellston scored 10 points and Andrews 6. It seems our boys show better teamwork than before and no matter how many substitutes came in, they are always "clicking" perfectly. All of the boys got to play, and they all did a swell job. Although some enmity exists between the teams, they both showed good sportsmanship.

The second team game was not won by such a margin, but our boys took them, 37-24. Huckle was high point man with 14, and Addis and Milstein were second with 8. Colater had 9 for Pellston.

Friday our game with Charlevoix is expected to be a close one, and it will probably be the best so far. Charlevoix has one defeat to Grayling, and East Jordan remains undefeated.

Next Attraction Community Concert Series Jan. 18th

The next attraction on the Community Concert series is Oscar Natzka, base-baritone. Wednesday, Jan. 18th is the date.

Mr. Natzka has a dramatic personality and a rich, powerful voice. He is six feet two, the son of a Russian emigrant, born in New Zealand. He started out as a blacksmith's apprentice and began his musical career at fourteen. During the war he was stationed in Iceland with the Canadian Navy. He has been leading bass-baritone in opera at Covent Gardens under Sir Thomas Beecham and has toured Australia and New Zealand before coming to America. His press notices are most favorable, so a musical treat is in store for Community Concert members next Wednesday evening.

Those who heard Szymon Goldberg at the last concert will be pleased to note he is playing at Carnegie Hall next Sunday afternoon with the New York Philharmonic Symphony. This concert is broadcast over a coast to coast network.

District Health Dept. Commends Local Chapter On Polio Work

District Dept. of Health No. 3
January 3, 1950

Mrs. Walter Davis, Chairman
Charlevoix County Chapter,
National Foundations for Infantile Paralysis,
East Jordan, Michigan.

Dear Mrs. Davis:

District Health Department No. 3 wishes to commend the Local Chapter, in cooperation with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, for its untiring work during the recent polio session.

We were astounded to learn that $9,740.00 was received by the Local Chapter from the National Foundation to assume responsibility for the treatment and care of twelve of fourteen cases which occurred in Charlevoix County. Up until this past year we have been very fortunate in that we have had very few cases of polio in our Country. As a result we have never materially needed the help of the National Foundation, and it almost is beyond our comprehension to think that such a large sum could have been provided without the help of the Foundation. Prior to this time the National Foundation was something to which we gave our dimes. When the need arose the National Foundation came across with dollars—thousands of them. Because of this organization and the work of the Local Chapter the families stricken were spared much mental as well as physical suffering.

We pray that such a situation as last year will never again occur in our County, but if an epidemic does strike we will feel more secure knowing that such an organization as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be willing and ready to aid us.

Sincerely yours,
A. F. Litzenburger, M. D.,
Director.

Mayor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, the National Foundation's funds are now virtually depleted and the organization is dependent upon the 1950 March of Dimes, January 16-31, for sufficient money to carry on the fight against this enemy of our little ones,

BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED, that each and every one of us do all in his power so that the National Foundation may continue its work of mercy for all infantile paralysis may menace;

SO THEREFORE, I do proclaim and endorse January 16-31 as the time for every citizen to contribute to the success of the 1950 March of Dimes.

MARVIN R. BENSON, MAYOR

Golden Gloves Tournament

AT BOYNE CITY JAN. 16, 17, 19. MANY ARE BEING ENTERED

Tournament officials of the Northern Michigan Golden Gloves tournament have already received twenty-five entries for the classic which this year will be held at Boyne City Jan. 16, 17, and 19.

Offical entry blanks may be obtained by anyone who wishes to enter by writing to Harry Jennings, general chairman at Boyne City.

All amateur fighters north of the Ludington-Alpena line who intend to compete in state finals in February at Grand Rapids must fight through the Boyne City tournament in order to be eligible for the state finals. This ruling was made at the annual meeting of the state Amateur Athletic Union this year.

Don Sheets, in charge of fighter procurement, said that the following communities have already announced the number af fighters who will compete: Onoway, 4; Mackinaw City, 1; Petoskey, 10; Bellaire, 6; Boyne City, 4. Cheboygan, Alpena, Gaylord, Vanderbilt, Hillman, Traverse City, Cadillac, East Jordan, Rogers City, and Grayling are planning team entries, but the size of their teams have not yet been determined.

"Chuck" Woods, a Detroit star lightweight of former years, and John Solesky, Grayling, will share duties as referees.

"That's The Ticket" To Be Presented By P.-T. A. Jan. 17th

If you have found a small piece of pink paper about the size of a ticket, be sure and bring it with you to the P.-T. A. play Jan. 17, Tuesday night at the High School Auditorium. It might be John's lottery ticket, the key to $550,000.

The East Jordan Parent-Teachers will present "That's the Ticket", Tuesday evening, Jan. 17, at 8 o'clock, in the High School Auditorium. When Myrtle, played by Carol Howe, tells John, played by Jim Nachazel, a thing or two about wasting his money—there, ladies you will hear something in brow beating a husband you have never heard before.

You really must come and see the latest thing the best dressed maids are wearing. Godiva, played by Mrs. Frank Hayden, wears a conventional maid's attire that is simply out of this world.

These are two of the high lights in the play the P.-T. A. will present Jan. 17th. You will enjoy every minute of the evening with Myrtle, John Godivia and the others who present, "That's the Ticket."

Come, laugh, and have fun with everyone, Tuesday, Jan. 17th, at eight o'clock in East Jordan High School.

O, yes, come and hear our Jean Cruper toot his tooter. You'll go home saying "You ain't had so much fun since maw and paw took you to the County Fair.

Fire Damages Incoming Mail

IN A FREAK BLAZE LAST MONDAY

Fire on an incoming mail truck damaged some of the mail for East Jordan last Monday.

The regular mail truck of Harry Saxton had loaded the mail at Elsworth and driven to East Jordan.

While waiting for the Grand Rapids bound truck to pull away from the loading platform and still on Main St., the mail suddenly blazed. Cause of the blaze is, as yet, undetermined. A fire extinguisher of the fog type was brought into service from the Sinclair Gas Station and the blaze was subdued.

In all, there were four sacks of parcel post mail containing 23 damaged parcels.

South Arm Grange

South Arm Grange met last Saturday evening with 10 members present. Theye were two new applications read for membership of our order. Several ideas were discussed on installing the furnace.

The Lecture had a contest with each man working a button hole. It seems a shame some of us spent so much money to buy button hole makers for our machines when we have such excellent hand talent.

The Grange closed with a pot luck lunch. The men all enjoyed playing cards while the women washed the dishes.

The next meeting will be Saturday evening, Jan. 21st, at 9 p. m.

He died in Borges Hospital, Kalamazoo, where he was taken when his condition was found critical. The remains were brought to East Jordan, Monday.

Surviving are his parents, and a sister, Mrs. M. J. Campbell, Detroia.

You And Your New Hospital

Some time ago a group of East Jordan citizens formed a Hospital Committee for the purpose of building a hospital or medical center in East Jordan. An appropriate site was offered and some backing was received. But not the large amount necessary to build a hospital. The more thoroughly the committee studied the project, the plainer it became that good hospitals cost more than one small community could afford, no matter how loyally they respond. The committee's work was not wasted, it just proved that it is not practical to have a first class hospital in East Jordan.

Realizing that a good hospital is the most important building in the community, a group of people in Charlevoix are going to build one. A first class 40 bed hospital with 12 bassinets, 2 operating rooms, fireproof, all on one floor and only about 17 miles from our East Jordan.

They need our help and have invited us to join them in providing ourselves and those we love with the best in the critical matter of health. Sure, it is going to cost a lot of money, but by cooperating together it can be finished in 1951.

Until our local committee is formally announced, please send your contributions to Bob Bridge or Herbert Schroeder of Charlevoix.

Rock Elm Grangers Celebrate New Years Together With Neighbors

About 70 Rock Elm Grangers and their good neighbors gathered at the Rock Elm Grange Hall to celebrate the birth of the New Year 1950.

The traditional oyster dinner was served as well as a 23 lb. turkey furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carlson, and all the trimmings that go with the holiday meal. When the meal was well under way a long distant call come from Pasadena, Calif. It was Mrs. Ben Smatts wishing us a Happy New Year.

Albert Slate opened the program by a reading, "Twas the Night After Christmas", and wishing everyone a Happy New Year.

Zola Kemp did some telephoning to thank friends for Christmas gifts received.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowman of East Jordan were with us. Mr. Bowman, from the conservation department, showed us three reels of pictures which were very much enjoyed. And last but not least, a little dancing was enjoyed by the young people.

Everyone departed at a late hour expressing a good time and wishing everyone a Happy New Year.

The members of the Grange wish to thank the Home Economic Club, Mrs. Joe Clark, Mrs. Lawrence Jensen, Mrs. Ted Kirkpatrick, our Worthy Lecturer, Joe Clark, and anyone else who helped to make the New Year's party a success.

1950 March of Dimes Starts Rolling Next Monday

EVERYONE SHOULD RECOGNIZE ITS VITAL IMPORTANCE TO ALL OF US

During the coming week the East Jordan March of Dimes drive will start rolling in high gear with the certain knowledge that everyone recognizes the very vital importance of this effort. Many organizations are planning special events and the local committee, headed by Hollis Drew, welcomes the voluntary assistance.

The main features of the drive will include the mailing of hundreds of individual collection cards, collections by the miniature "iron lung" canisters now on location in all business places, school children's collection cards, a county March of Dimes Ball and a special event now being planned by the Rotary Club.

The tragic epidemic of 1949 which added 41,000 cases to the grim toll of four devastating polio epidemics within the period of six years emphasizes that the one weapon we MUST have if we are to fight the disease whenever it occurs is money. The Foundation spent $11,000 last year on our own Charlevoix County cases alone. So, when you join the 1950 March of Dimes, please give more, more than you've ever given before.

Legion Plans Supper In New Home

Opening of our new American Legion home here will be marked Tuesday evening, Jan. 17, by a potluck supper, which will be served in the main hall of the post for Legionnaires, members of the Auxiliary and their families.

Carlos Heazlit of Cadillac, state ritual activities chairman, will be main speaker for the supper, which will be served by the auxiliary.

Others at the speakers' table will include Cyril Dolezel, Rebec-Sweet commander; Mrs. Joe Wilkins, auxiliary president; Mrs. Louis Bathke, district president for the auxiliary, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Portz. A toastmaster and song leader will be announced later, according to Commander Dolezel.

Preparations are being made to seat approximately 130 persons for the evening, with a short program being planned to follow the meal.

This program constitutes the official opening of the newly constructed post home the Legionnaires have built to replace the structure burned in February 1948.

Mrs. Wilkins has appointed Mrs. Henry Brown chairman of the dining room committee. Mrs. Harold Reed, Mrs. John Kotowich, Mrs. Lawrence Hayes and Mrs. Ollie King will assist Mrs. Brown.

If you don't learn anything from your mistakes, thers's no sense in making them.

Among those from East Jordan who plan to attend the meeting will be Mrs. Louis Bathke, district president of the auxiliary.

East Jordan's post will be host to the spring district convention, scheduled for Sunday, June 11th.

Charlevoix Co. Committee Elects Committees

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY PMA SHOWS GREATEST INCREASE

Your County PMA Committee wishes to take this opportunity to thank all the farmers who sent in their votes. Our united efforts have placed Charlevoix County as leading all other counties in the state for the greatest gain in number of votes cast over last year.

Charlevoix County farmers are urged to file performance reports with the County PMA Committee listing the soil conservation practices which they carried out during the past year in cooperation with the 1949 agricultural conservation program.

These reports are required to be filed with the County PMA Committee on or before January 15, 1950, in order to qualify farmers for assistance payments for practices carried out in 1949, according to LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the Charlevoix County PMA Committee.

A farm-to-farm canvass has been made to secure these reports but in many cases the farmers were not at home or were unavailable when the Community Committeeman called, so any farmer who did not file a performance report with his local committeeman is reminded that it is his responsibility now to file the report with the county office if he desires a conservation payment.

TO SERVE TOWNSHIPS AND DISTRICTS FOR ENSUING YEAR

INCREASE YOUR EQUITY IN YOUR FARM

There are two ways to increase your equity in your farm. The way which most of us would think of first is by going down to the bank and making another payment on the mortgage. The other way is suggested by Dr. L. M. Turk, head of the soil science department at Michigan State College—it's building up the soil and improving its fertility. Soil is the basic natural resourse in farming and is the source of the farmers' income. Improvements in the soil on your farm just naturally make it more valuable.

The greatest part of our soils were in good condition before they first went under the plow. One is hard put to find farms where soil tilth and fertility is as good as when the first furrow was turned.

Dr. Turk is concerned about the constant loss of organic matter from the soil. It's the farmer's job to make sure that losses do not exceed additions. You're going to ask, "How can the organic matter content of our soils be best maintained:" The answer is that organic matter needn't be purchased; it can be produced right on the farm. The three most common sources are stable manure, green manures, and crop residues. For the most part crop residues consist of roots and stubble of various crops. The value of these crop residues has been fully shown, not only experimentally, but in actual field practice. If we make every effort to get these crop residues back in the soil, supplement them with green manure and especially with stable manure, it's easy to maintain soil organic matter.

"Ghost" Of The Warren Dunes

The "ghost" at the Warren Dunes state park south of St. Joseph is a deer. Large tracks of the elusive visitor have been spotted intermittently the last few months, but park rangers have yet to get first glimpse of the animal.

Park men have kept an eye open for the deer while on regular patrol and now are using off duty time to spot the gallivanting four-footer.

Deer have drifted down into southwestern Michigan along Lake Michigan in the last 20 years. While deer consider white cedar browse good food, the herd in the sand dune areas have access to a top delicacy—ground hemlock.

May You Force the City To Extend a Water Line To Your Neighborhood?

A man bought a house in a secluded neighborhood just inside the city limits. To his dismay, he discovered that the city's water lines didn't run out that far. Promptly he sued the city, demanding that the pipes be extended to his neighborhood. He said that he was entitled to the same service as everybody else—no matter how much it would cost the city. However, the court refused to interfere. The judge said that, in fairness to all concerned, such matters must be left up to the good judgment of the municipal authorities.

Could You Get Around Building Restrictions By Pitching a Tent?

The restrictions in a new subdivision forbade the erection of any "building" worth less than $10,000. One man who had bought a lot found that he couldn't spend that much money, so he decided to pitch a tent instead! But no sooner had he done so than he was haled into court for violating the restrictions. At the trial, he argued that a tent was not a "building"—and therefore was not covered by the restrictions. However, the court disagreed and ordered the tent removed. The judge said that a building is a "covered structure enclosing space within its walls"—and that certainly includes a tent!

Is a Market to Blame if a Shopper Trips Over a Carton?

A market clerk left a carton of canned fruit in the middle of an aisle, while he went to ring up a sale. Along came a housewife, hurrying down the aisle on her way to the coffee department. She didn't see the box, and stumbled right over it. Later she brought suit against the store for injuries suffered, but the court threw out her claim. The judge ruled that, although the clerk should not have left the carton in the aisle, the woman was equally guilty of negligence. The judge pointed out that, with the box in plain view, the woman had walked exactly 27 feet without even seeing the obstacle. That, he said, was definitely negligence.

May a Salesgirl Forcibly Retake A Garment From a Customer?

A housewife went to a neighborhood store one morning to buy a topcoat. While she was trying one on, the manager rushed up and cried: "You don't want to buy anything! You are just spying for our competitor across the street!" At the manager's orders, the salesgirl pulled the coat off the astonished woman's shoulders. A few days later, the housewife sued the store for damages. The company admitted its mistake, but insisted that merely removing somebody's coat was "not such a terrible thing." However, the court disagreed and granted the woman's claim. The judge said that the circumstances and the manner of removal were "a wrong and an indignity!"

May a Henpecked Husband Suddenly Launch a "Get Tough" Policy?

For 10 long years a man led the life of a henpecked husband, yielding to every whim of his domineering spouse. One day, after a quarrel, she ordered him out of the house—expecting nim to come back and beg her forgiveness. But he didn't. Instead he changed his tactics completely. He not only stayed away from his wife but also cursed her lustily every time they met. Soon she was ready for a reconciliation, but her rampaging husband made no move in that direction. To top it all, he finally filed a divorce action—charging his wife with breaking up the marriage. But the court refused to grant the decree, saying that the husband should have made some effort to patch things up. The judge said it wasn't fair for the man to make such a sudden change, after spoiling his wife for so long!

The mother of a 10-year-old boy told him to come home for lunch every day, instead of eating at the school cafeteria. Although this was against the rules of the school, the boy decided to obey his mother. After a few days, the youngster was suspended from his classes. His enraged mother thereupon sued the school board, charging that a child's parents are the ones to decide where he will eat. But the court upheld the board's rule and told the mother she would just have to give in.

In figures, about $11,000 gross from 18 acres of cherries (including some young trees) or more than $600 per acre. Eveline Orchards are under the direction of experts, like Prof. L. R. May a Policeman Collect Damages if He Shoots Himself by Mistake?

A policeman went to the depot one night to board a train. The entrance ramp was not well lighted, and the officer didn't notice a cart which had been thoughtlessly left there by a depot employe. Sure enough, he tripped over the cart. As he fell, the impact touched off the trigger of his pistol and he shot himself in the leg! Although not seriously wounded, he later brought a damage suit against the railroad—and the court granted his claim. The judge figured that, even though he had shot himself, it was really the railroad man's negligence that had started the unhappy chain of events.

A cottage was put up for auction, and a young couple decided to enter the bidding. However, every time they called out a price the man sitting next to them went a little higher. Finally the man stopped bidding, and the cottage was sold to the young couple. Later they found out that the other bidder was a stooge—hired by the auctioneer to boost the price. Angrily they refused to go through with the deal. The auctioneer insisted that the cottage was "worth the price," but the court called the sale off.

Account Books Offer Advantages To Farmers

Modern Michigan farmers, like successful business men, are keeping plenty close tab on their business these days.

The biggest help in this job, says E. M. Wood, Michigan State College agricultural economist, is the Michigan farm account book, issued by MSC, which was kept by more than 18,000 farmers last year.

The account books are now ready and can be obtained at cost of printing from county agricultural agents' offices. Farmers can start immediately by taking farm inventory.

Here are some of the features of the 1950 book:

1. It is easy to keep and income tax returns can be filed directly from column totals. A farm map and crop records are included.

2. It provides for a summary to analyze the farm business.

3. Tenant-landlord expense and income items may be listed separately.

4. A continuous inventory section avoids the need for re-copying the inventory data each year.

A good record book is the farmer's handiest "tool" at income tax time, Elwood states. It eliminates hunting for old sales slips and saves money by providing a complete record of expenses which reduce the payable tax.

In analyzing the financial condition of your farm, the record book shows total returns and total expenses, and an inventory of how much you have invested. It can show strong and weak points, how your year's business compares with others in your area, and it will help in making future plans.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Change Seen for Health Measure; Frenzied Reds Acclaim Stalin at 70; Hungary Off-Limits for Americans

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

HEALTH BILL:
Changes Planned

There was little likelihood that it would amount to anything in the long run—since the bill seems foredoomed to failure—but Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, let it be known he will recommend some changes in the administration's medical - insurance bill now before congress.

EWING'S conviction that the measure as drawn could stand some revision came after he obtained a personal insight into the socialized health program as practiced in England and other European countries.

Ewing said his recommendations were not completely formulated, but indicated there would be a provision in the bill to reduce the opportunity for collusion between patients and doctors to augment medical fees.

The approach under consideration by the U.S. survey group is to require the patient to pay a part of the cost of the medical service —not to a doctor, but to an insurance fund.

AS THE U.S. BILL is now drafted, doctors would be compensated in any or all of three ways —a per capita payment irrespective of service, a straight salary, or a fee basis.

However, it might very well be much ado about nothing, as it seemed apparent neither the people of the U.S., the medical profession, or a sufficient number of congressmen are in the mood for installation of socialized medicine in the United States.

HUNGARY:
Off-Limits

The United States, irked and with patience worn thin, placed Communist-controlled Hungary off limits for Americans traveling abroad.

The action was taken because the Hungarian government has paid no attention to U.S. demands that Robert A. Vogeler, an official of the International Telephone & Telegraph corporation had not been released after his arrest on November 18. At that time, several other Americans were taken into custody by the Hungarians.

The American note placing the travel-ban on Americans to Hungary again demanded Vogeler's release and reserved the right to claim damages for any injuries he may have suffered.

Although the U.S. protest was directed only to the Vogeler case, a state department spokesman said that it applied also to the arrest of Israel Jacobsen, head of the American joint distribution committee's Hungarian office.

It was a strong note and indicated the temper of the U.S. state department, but its effect could be determined only in the release or further detention of Vogeler and his imprisoned fellow-Americans.

CUPID:
Busy Fellow

Cupid was a very busy fellow indeed as the holiday season came and went. And most of his activity was centered in the upper brackets of U.S. celebrities.

Hardly had he sat down to rest after bringing Vice-President Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Hadley together at the altar, when he was up and off again, this time to bring about the union of New York Mayor O'Dwyer and fashion stylist Elizabeth Sloan Simpson. This romance culminated with a wedding in Florida.

BUT the little fellow with the wings and the bow and arrows wasn't having any rest. With the ink barely dry on the press announcements of Mayor O'Dwyer's wedding, headlines carrying a really romantic wallop were screaming again.

And this time, Cupid had hit where it hurt. Thousands of movie-struck females across the nation, with a goodly number of them being Hollywood's own fair and famous, were shocked, then grieved as they learned that long-time movie idol Clark Gable had wed.

HANDSOME, he-man Gable had taken to wife the widow of the late Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. She was the former Lady Ashley. Gable gave his age as 48, his bride said she was 39. The marriage was the fourth for each.

Labor Honored

This is a photograph of the new three-cent U.S. postage stamp which will be issued to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Samuel Gompers, great American labor leader. It will be printed in purple and will go on sale in Washington on January 27.

STALIN:
Big Birthday

The Soviet-dominated world went into a frenzy as each nation and satellite strove to outdo the others in paying tribute to Russia's Joseph Stalin on his 70th birth anniversary.

THE RUSSIANS were in their usually rare form, using the occasion to hurl a thunderous demand for peace at the world. In order to achieve it, they would set up, they said, annual awards for those doing the most to preserve peace and to confound the "war mongerers." That category included, of course, all nations and governments out of sympathy with the Soviet aim of expansion.

Almost fantastic was the extent to which the Stalin-worshippers went in adulation of Stalin. Thousands of parcels and crates, trainloads of merchandise, whole exposition halls of trinkets and pictures, factories and socks, books, and horses, wine and toys, delicacies and cars were funneled toward Moscow from the Elbe to China, from the Arctic to the Black sea.

NO ONE MAN could ever use all the gifts, or read all the honors. No one man could ever distribute them. What it was all worth was anyone's guess, but certainly millions of dollars.

Eastern Germany alone collected 70 freight cars of gifts—one for each year—as a sort of whimsical reparations.

The western world paid little heed to the Soviet chest-beating over a desire for peace and, so far as the press recorded, England was the only nation among the North Atlantic pact signatories to send congratulations to Stalin on his birthday.

But for the Russians, themselves, to most of whom Stalin is more legendary than real, the thrilling, dramatic high spot of the anniversary celebration came in Moscow when Stalin, himself, walked out on a stage to let the people see him.

INDONESIA:
Uneasy Freedom

The United States of Indonesia was an established fact. It had become formally free after 300 years of Dutch rule.

But the birth of freedom was no routine, casual affair. Just like the case with most republics, the birthday was grim and turbulent. Even as freedom was declared, the new nation deployed troops and maintained a state of siege in wide areas to prevent anticipated disturbances.

IT WAS EXPECTED that Communists and some die-hards would attempt to make trouble for the new republic and to embarrass it by creating disorders.

Hundreds of troops patrolled the streets of Batavia and machine-gun posts were set up at intersections. Dutch troops throughout the country were confined to barracks for two days to prevent clashes.

A UNITED NATIONS commission set a truce in the islands which ended the bloody fighting between the Indonesians and Dutch, and also supported a Dutch-Indonesian roundtable conference at the Hague last fall which led to the granting of Indonesian independence.

MECHANICAL BRAIN

Instrument Plots Airplane Performance

A giant computer, which engineers believe can do just about anything except eat and sleep is performing amazing feats in connection with analyses of airplane performance even before the airplane is built.

The device imitates an airplane in flight as it develops information vital to engineers planning aircraft for the future. It was lent by the navy's research section for use at the Vought aircraft company plant in Dallas.

According to engineers describing the device's functions, it's simple. They admit, however, that it takes years for an operator to learn how to interpret the answers which the machine gives. However, those studying the device say it's time well spent.

EINSTEIN:
One Great Law?

Most schoolboys would react with surprise if told that gravity is still one of the most puzzling of natural forces. They would declare that Sir Isaac Newton had settled all that when, after watching the falling apple, he stated a theory that may be over-simplified by explaining it as a fact that "everything that goes up must come down."

However, Albert Einstein, frizzle-haired, unpretentious scientist, ranked as among the greatest in the world, and a key figure in the development of atomic power, wasn't content to leave it at that.

EINSTEIN, after a lifetime of work, had made a great discovery —a discovery he believes will explain the mystery of gravitation. One of the greatest of the scientific enigmas, gravitation keeps humans from floating off the earth, keeps the earth and other planets spinning always in the same path around the sun.

According to the new Einstein theory, which was announced by the Princeton university press, all the basic physical laws would be explained in terms of gravitation. It is an attempt to describe in one law everything that goes on everywhere—from the inside of one atom to the limits of the universe. Einstein has been trying to do that for 30 years.

If Einstein is right, he may hold the key that will unlock all the secrets of the universe.

LIKE RELATIVITY, the new theory is expressed in mathematics. The heart of the explanation of gravity is four equations, given in letters or symbols, not numerals.

There was no explanation of what the symbols mean, but no physicists were ready yet to try to talk publicly about the new theory. It still had to be tested to see whether it covers all the known laws or observations about the way matter and energy and gravitation behave.

TAXATION:
A Warning

It would be charged to politics and an effort to smear the "Fair Deal" program, but house GOP leader Joseph W. Martin struck a logical note when he warned that a tax increase in 1950 might throw the nation into an economic "tail-spin" and cost millions of workers their jobs.

MARTIN took a jibe at President Truman's indication that some excise taxes might be lowered by declaring:

"It appears Mr. Truman is about to fly a 600-million-dollar kite with a multi-million-dollar tail on it."

That referred to previous statements by administration leaders that they knew of no way to avoid a deficit without higher taxes.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROPOSAL was referred to as a "package deal" which Martin said congress would reject. The plan would suggest lopping 600 million dollars off the excise levies, but would call for a multi-billion dollar increase in income taxes.

Martin made it clear that he would go along on the excise tax slash, but that he and fellow Republicans would do everything possible to prevent any increase in income taxes.

THE REPUBLICAN LEADER was on good tactical ground for the simple reason that 1950 is a congressioanal election year and many Democrats would feel compelled to go along with the GOP in an anti-tax hike fight.

Has Everything

This "queen" has everything —beauty, brains and great wealth. She is Senorita Anna Maria Alvarez Calderon, 20, Peruvian brunette visiting New York who holds the title of "beauty queen of the Americas." She is heiress to a 32-million dollar fortune.

BERLIN:
Just in Case

Although an announcement made it clear that no emergency was expected, the United States army ordered riot-control training for all American troops in Berlin.

"Riot control, or street fighting, is what troops in Berlin presumably would have to face if anything would develop," said Col. Julian Ewell. He added that trouble might come from the eastern (German) police, or anywhere.

Fellowship

Lesson for January 15, 1950

THE FIRST CHRISTIANS didn't have everything we have, but on the other hand they had one thing seldom to be seen nowadays. They did not have the New Testament, only the Old; they were not surrounded by an even partly Christian civilization; they had no centuries of Christian tradition; they had no world wide Christianity, only a small knot of people in one small and out-of-the-way city, Jerusalem. On the other hand, for all they lacked, they had one great thing: Fellowship. We have it too, but too often in a week and watery fashion as compared with what they enjoyed.

Family Living

THE VERY FIRST Christians lived literally like a big family. This is all the more extraordinary when you think of the variety of their backgrounds. (Look up the list of places mentioned in Acts 2:9,10 on a map of Asia, Africa and Europe.) A good family is a unit.

If little Willie comes down with appendicitis, his parents don't get out the family account book and figure out how much Willie has been worth to the family, in dollars and cents, in his eight years of life.

Suppose they calculated that his services, such as they are—carrying in the wood, feeding the chickens, or what not— had been worth about $23.75 since the last time he was sick, they wouldn't send little Willie to the hospital with the note to the doctor: "Please give our Willie $23.75 worth of operation. That's all he has put into the family budget and that's all we're going to let him take out!"

Not by any means. Little Willie is taken to the hospital and whatever operation he needs, that is the one his parents want him to have, even if it costs 20 times what Willie has been worth in cash. The family give Willie what he needs, and they also expect him to help out in all the ways he can.

Church Living

ONE TROUBLE with our churches today is that so many of them have actually lost this family-feeling. The early Christians, we are told, "were of one heart and soul." Could you say of your church that all its members are of one heart and soul?

The early Christians, feeling thus close to one another, "had all things in common." What do the members of your church have in common? They meet in one place once a week. But what else? Do they even speak to one another? If one member of the congregation falls sick, do the others find out about it quickly, and when they find out, what do they do about it? If trouble comes to a member, do the other members rally around him?

Does the church say to its members, as the Salvation Army does of hard-pressed men, "You may be down but you're never out?" Some churches have a pastor's or deacon's fund, to be used in cases of need.

Contributors to the fund are as anonymous as are those who are helped by it. The idea is for those who are blessed with large income, or those who may have special windfalls, bonuses, extra dividends, big crops, and so on, to chip in for the aid of all who may run into trouble.

Not All Troubles Are Financial

NATURALLY, not all troubles are financial. Some of the most serious troubles have little or nothing to do with money. There are many other kinds of needs. For example, in any church there will be lonely people, and you can't cure loneliness with a check, no matter how big.

The minister is the key man, he can locate the needs, but he can't supply them all. Lonely people, those who have been through deep sorrow, men trying to find the right jobs, young folks in danger of serious temptation— a church which is like a family will not let these people fight their battles alone.

What we all need is the feeling that we belong. The church can make all the difference between despair and happiness simply by making every single person in it feel that no matter what happens to him, he still belongs; he is more than among friends, he is among brothers.

Is it "Theft" to Empty A Drunk's Pockets— For His Own Good?

An elderly man and a youthful friend entered a tavern one evening and began drinking heavily. The whiskey didn't bother the older man at all, but his companion soon slumped down in his chair dead drunk. The man took the youth's wallet and started to leave, explaining to the bartender that he would "keep it until my friend sobers up." But the man had no sooner walked out than the suspicious bartender summoned a policeman. The officer arrested the man for theft. At the trial, he admitted taking the wallet without the youth's knowledge. However, in view of the circumstances, the court found him not guilty. The judge said that, far from committing a crime, the man had really done the youth a favor by protecting his money.

Must a Man Behave In the Presence of His Mother-In-Law?

A husband came home drunk one day, and found his wife's parents waiting for him. "Drinking again!" exclaimed the disgusted father-in-law. The husband shot back an angry retort, spiced with some lively profanity. The mother-in-law was so offended by his language that she had him arrested under a local statute which forbade swearing "in the presence of a woman." At the trial, the man offered a novel defense. He argued that the word "woman" did not include mothers-in-law! However, the court ruled that mothers-in-law were protected by the statute —just the same as other women— and therefore found the man guilty as charged.

Is an Insurance Company Entitled to Know Your "Past?"

An ex-convict took out a $10,000 life insurance policy, stating on the application that he had been a carpenter for the past 11 years. As a matter of fact, he had spent most of that time in jail. Soon afterward, the man was killed in a gun battle with police. His widow claimed the insurance, but the company refused to pay because of the misstatement on the application. She then sued for the money, arguing that the misstatement was "just a minor technicality." However, the court turned down her claim. The judge said that the company might not have been so willing to issue the policy in the first place, had it known more about the man's past.

May a Motorist Get into Trouble by Honking too Much?

A traveling salesman drove up behind a farmer's wagon, which was being drawn by two mules. Deciding to have some fun, the salesman began honking his horn furiously. The mules soon became jittery, and the farmer waved a warning to the salesman. But he kept right on honking as hard as he could—until the mules finally broke and ran. They crashed into a billboard and both of them were injured fatally. When the matter was taken to court, the judge failed to see anything funny in the salesman's little joke and made him pay for the farmer's loss. The judge felt he should have had more consideration for the mules' nervous systems!

A certain rich man was grief-stricken by the death of his only son. He decided to draw up a will, leaving a large trust fund to his son's young widow. However, he added a proviso that the money should be cut off in case the young woman ever remarried. After the man's death, she went to court to have this proviso declared null and void. She argued that it wasn't fair to force her to remain single for the rest of her life. However, the court ruled that the will was perfectly legal.

Bowling News

Thorsen's Lumber, Metal Products and the Recreation continue to lead their respective leagues as the Lumber Jacks dropped Cal's Tavern 3-1 in the Merchants League and Metal Products took Quality Food 3-1 in the Ladies League, while the Recreation had their lead pared in the Inter-City League by Chris's Men's Wear when they linked games of 898-861-872 together for the highest series for the Men during the past week. Scores for the Recreation were 872-890-823-2585. Greg Boswell topped the Men's Wear team on 596.

Other matches in the Inter City league were decided by Howard's Service taking all four points from Ray's Barbers, as Wolf's Refrigerators, Charlevoix, split 2-2 with Kaas Foods, Central Lake.

Scoring in the Merchants League was marked with many high games, topped by the single game score and series of Pat Bartsch who wired games of 170-202-255 together for 627. The 255 finisher gave him second high game for the season. Others to hit the double century mark were: Greg Boswell with 202-232 for 608; Cliff Bradshaw, 202-201-565; Barney Adair, 222 in 598; Wally Peacock, 229 in 585; Burl Braman, 204 in 513; Chris Taylor, 232 in 570; Andy Anderson, 209 in 540; Gene Tiechman, 220 in 551; Tom Breakey, 221 in 496; and Hank Ruis, 205 in 510.

Both Hillman's Insurance and the Recreation took four points from the Legion and Brock's Turkey Farm, while the Bankers and Thorsen's won three each from Monarch Finer Food and Cal's Tavern. Sommerville's Grocery split with Ellsworth Electric, as did St. Joseph and the E. J. Canning Co.

Eva Stark topped the losers with 436. The Dress & Gift Shop dropped Cal's Tavern 4-0, as Datha Peacock had top series for the night with 489, while Mary Lou Breakey scored a 201 middle game in which the Dress Shop tied Central Lake Torch for second high single game for the year. Both games of 784 being bowled at the same time. Dorothy Moyers got a 206 game in the Central Lake Torch's 784 game. The Torch continued to burn and the girls of Central Lake added second high series to their credit as they totaled 2184 on games of 724-784-676. Norm's Tavern were quick to take advantage of the Torch's low last game and were able to salvage a point for their efforts.

Kentucky Man Is 'Inventor' For Inventors

CINCINNATI, OHIO. — Way out in a cornfield near Burlington, Ky., lives Frank Sinton Milburn, whose claim to distinction is that he operates one of the most unusual plants in all the Middle West. This is true for many reasons, but probably for the chief reason that Milburn is the sole worker in the plant.

The building which houses the industry has a puzzling collection of complex tools and machinery, dies, jigs and other items. It does practically no manufacturing, this strange industry—in fact the less production required, the better Mr. Milburn likes it.

It is difficult to describe the operation as a business; it is more like a profitable hobby.

Milburn likes engineering problems, so he has found his occupation in solving the problems of big and little people who want help.

Helps Other People

For 15 years now, Milburn has been wrestling with other people's problems. He has his shop at Burlington because he likes the solitude; he sympathizes with folks who have to work in downtown Cincinnati.

His business, essentially, is to take on the engineering of ideas of embryonic inventors.

His contact media are two-line classified ads in such magazines as Popular Mechanics. These bring in problems from all sorts of inventors. And they are interesting stories he gets.

"I have seen more rat traps and combination salt and pepper shakers than anybody in the world," he observed with a broad grin.

About 80 per cent of the inquiries are of questionable usefulness, but the other 20 per cent contains useful and potentially worth-while ideas for new products, or improvements of existing products.

He was in earnest when he pondered the sad plight of many worth-while items or gadgets. The inventor may have a practical idea; Milburn may be able to engineer the product satisfactorily for production; but the inventor generally is without the medium for bringing it before the public.

"If we could put across the ideas of these 20 per cent it would make jobs and generate business," he observed.

Needs Many Tools

Hence, the business is principally an engineering one. This requires a multitude of tools, dies, jigs and fixtures. But even in this field, the business is different from the engineering firms which function as service units to large business concerns.

Milburn is conscious of the limited resources of the people who come to him with ideas. So he uses all sorts of mechanical improvizations to hold costs to a minimum.

Yet, all his customers are not individual inventors. He has done some rare precision work for a watch company to facilitate that company's wartime production of precision measuring instruments. He has a rare assortment of watchmakers' tools and jigs. He did considerable engineering and production on a tiny item that went into aircraft engines built by Wright aeronautical corp. And he answers the call of many manufacturing companies around the country for special engineering work.

Boy Catches 3-Pound Bass With Bare Hands In Pool

CINCINNATI.—If angling were as easy as this, every fellow could . . . but the story speaks for itself:

Buddy Owens, 14-year-old Fort Thomas youth, has accomplished something that many anglers travel all over the country to do and often never succeed. Buddy caught a smallmouth bass that weighed more than three pounds—and he caught it with his bare hands!

The youth said he awakened early and left his home to caddy at the near-by Highland country club. Upon passing the Covington waterworks, which is adjacent to Alexandria pike in Fort Thomas, Buddy noticed something splashing in the water.

After scrambling over the fence, Buddy saw a large fish swimming in circles. He waded cautiously into the water, came upon the fish from behind and tossed it upon the bank.

The fish was more than 18 inches long and weighed more than three pounds, Mrs. Owens reported. It was impossible to check the evidence, however, since Mrs. Owens confessed that the family had eaten the fish for dinner.

The fish probably had come out of the Ohio river, been sucked up into the intake pipes and transported to the settling basin of the waterworks. Whether it had been brought in when smaller or had arrived recently was not determined.

At any rate, Owen Owens Jr., father of Buddy, said he had fished in Florida, Michigan and other good spots and had yet to catch a smallmouthed bass that large. He will check the waterworks basin from now on, he said.

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

The political theory that Michigan voters are becoming increasingly disillusioned over party promises will have a new test in 1950.

Reason?

Entry of Harry F. Kelly of Detroit and Eugene Black of Port Huron into the Republican race for nomination as governor.

Dr. Eugene C. Keys, former lientenant governor who has thrived as a "lone wolf" against the pack, has astutely built a reputation for himself as an advocate of "good government". He relished the label of an independent and was as likely to be on the opposite side of the governor—whether Kelly or Sigler—as not when issues came to a showdown.

Black's role is parallel to Keys to a striking extent. Black, as the battling attorney general and "peck's bad boy" of the Sigler administration, jumped into the front page almost daily. He was on the unpredictable side of the political ledger and hence at times was an annoyance to his sponsor, Kim Sigler.

To have Keys and Black both in the race along with Kelly is a sure sign that the Republican primary will be colorful and exciting.

Howard J. Rugg, capitol correspondent for the Lansing State Journal, believes that the rise of independent voters in Michigan has been largely responsible for party upsets about every two years. A quotation:

"The average voter no longer seems to take party politics as seriously as did his father or grandfather. Even though he may consider himself a Republican, it doesn't nean he won't vote for a Democrat if he thinks the Democrat better suited for the office.

"And why the increase of independent voters?

"Perhaps because they have given up on any one party fulfilling promises to cut governmental costs. They have seen the cost of government and taxes rise continuously administration after administration, regardless of the politics of the man sitting in the front office in Lansing, until they have reached the conclusion that it matters very little which party is in control of the state administration.

"They have lost interest in government except insofar as their own communities may benefit from federal or state grants. So long as the state and federal governments take bigger bites each year out of their pockets they are going to do everything they can to get as much back as possible for their own governmental units, thereby holding down their local taxes.

"For that reason they are not binding themselves to any one political party, but reserve the right to vote for the candidate they believe will best serve their own interests".

This quest for the so-called "knight on a white horse" who will achieve the political maximum has been responsible, according to Rugg, for the persistent switch of independent voters from Democrat to Republican parties. The 1950 political campaign will be watched with interest as affording a new test of this theory.

Poultry Program Offers Farmers Varied Activity

A week full of activity is promised poultrymen who attend the Farmers' Week program at Michigan State College.

Beginning Tuesday, Jan. 31, the college poultry specialists will present the latest techniques for success and greater profits in poultry production.

The management day program on Tuesday will feature the two big management problems: feed and morality. New information is constantly coming from research laboratories to help develop new poultry concentrates. The farmer must take these and add his own grains to make a balanced ration. High mortality must be cut for greatest profits. The management program will also discuss when and what to buy in the line of poultry products.

Wednesday, Feb. 1, is planned for discussion of problems of rearing laying flock replacements and broilers. The hatcheryman's stake in the business of supplying chicks that will live and lay will be presented. The broiler business is growing every year and poultrymen say new developments are making this enterprise more profitable for the poultry farmer.

The third day, Thursday, will be devoted to the discussion of the problems of the turkey grower. Production of more eggs per hen and more poults out of the eggs that are put into the incubator are goals of poult producers. Marketing will also be on the program.

Friday, Feb. 3, will be devoted to rabbits. Industry leaders present to discuss this farm enterprise.

A baby chick show, an egg show, and equipment will be held during the week for the rural visitors.

If a Brick Drops On a Pedestrian, Can He Collect Damages?

A workman was hired to fix the brickwork on the front of an old building. However, no "safety zone" was set aside on the sidewalk below. Sure enough, a brick slipped out of the workman's hand and landed on a passing pedestrian's toe! The pedestrian later sued the owner of the building for damages. The latter explained that the injury was "entirely accidental," but the court felt otherwise. The judge said the owner should have had the common sense to foresee this kind of mishap—and to take precautions against it.

If a Policeman Arrests Your Friend, May You Interfere?

A policeman was summoned to a cafe one night to arrest a drunken customer. As he was making the arrest, the man's companion laid a hand on the officer's shoulder and said: "Let him go home. I'll take care of him." The policeman's reply was to arrest his friend also—for "obstructing an officer." However, the court decided that the policeman had been altogether too touchy and ordered the friend released. The judge said the man obviously was "just trying to be helpful."

A G. I. asking for a loan was asked what his business was and gave the startling answer that he was a psychiatrist in a pottery factory. Further questioning drew out the information that he took care of the cracked pots.

CHILDREN NEED SUNSHINE VITAMIN SOURCE IN WINTER

In the few months of summer sunshine, Michigan's children become brown and sturdy but then come these dark winter months and the "sunshine vitamin" disappears.

Because the sunshine vitamin, or vitamin D, is necessary for bone growth, it is important that children be given another source of the vitamin. Mary Lewis, foods and nutrition department, Michigan State College, says it can be given through drug store sources or milk to which vitamin D has been added.

Since the minerals in milk important to bone growth are used more effectively with vitamin D present, is has been added to milk to the extent of 400 international units per quart. This is enough for the majority of children and is the most convenient way for parents to make certain their children secure enough.

Rural children, drinking milk which has not been fortified with vitamin D, may need to have some drug store source until they can again play long hours in the sunshine.

There are various forms of vitamin D available in drug stores. It is not necessary to purchase an expensive form but to choose one which the child will accept. It should provide about 400 international units per day. This is the one known vitamin not supplied in adequate amounts by natural foods commonly eaten. Thus during the winter months the use of vitamin D milk or a drug source is necessary.

The School Bell...

SECOND Grade—Agnes Johnston

Last week we began a study of the different signs of winter. We are keeping a record- of the out door temperatures for one week. Our first reading was 17 degrees above zero.

We have a new January calendar for our room. It has a picture of two Boston Toy Bulldogs. We wouldn't mind having either of them for a pet.

Our gym perior during the winter months comes on Thursday from 2:30 to 3:00. During the first class Louis Raymond and Duane Heinzelman let us see the basketballs they received for Christmas.

Mrs. Johnston finished reading to us the story "Factory Kitty." We thank Suzanne Boswell for bringing such an interesting story book.

Mrs. Drapeau is teaching us "The Gingerbread Boy", a story set to music.

Jolly Jingo suggested to us to stop long enough from play to write thank-you notes to people who sent us Christmas presents. We think his suggestion was a good one.

New room helpers were elected last Friday.

SECOND and THIRD Grades — Adeline Bowerman

Bruce Ogden showed us three experiments which he has learned about from his chemistry set. We learned a new word "oxygen" and a little about what it means.

In our are period on Tuesday we had fun trying some figure drawing. Most of us got on to how to proportion our figures pretty well.

In languages this week we are preparing a dramatization on "Thrift" for our assembly on Friday. We are learning a few thrift proverbs from "Poor Richard's Almanac."

Fourth Grade — Lois Snyder

Sharon DeForest returned to school this morning after her trip to Florida. She told us about pick- and eating oranges and tangerines from an orchard along the way. She also told about trees being tapped for the making of turpentine. Sharon said it was too cold to go swimming but they went to the beach to gather shells. She is going to bring a starfish to show us tomorrow. We were all wishing we had been along after hearing about her good time but she tells us it is nice to be back home, too.

Charles Kamradt saw the capitol building and Gov. Williams' office during his visit to Lansing last week. He met some new friends and had a good time playing with them while there.

Glenn Kowalske had his tonsils and adenoids out last week. He will have to stay home all this week, too, so we are writing notes and get-well cards to him.

Wanda Gilkerson and Ernest Hayden brought some nice records which they received for Christmas so we could all enjoy them.

Mrs. Snyder just finished reading the story of "Bambi" to us. Now she is reading a good story about a little fluffy dog called "Tyke, The Little Mutt". Some very interesting things happen to him in his search for a home.

Last week we started the study of our eyes in Health. It was very surprising to some of us to learn that we should hold our books and papers from 14 to 16 inches from our eyes. We are trying to break ourselves of the habit of "writing with our noses" since we have learned that close work is a strain on our eyes.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Galmore

Georgia Derenzy and George Kotalik celebrated their birthdays last week. Georgia's came on Friday, the day we have Music, so we sang a Hawiian birthday song that we found in our books.

We had two movies, one on "Birds in Winter" and one on "Wildlife". At this time when most of us are putting our Christmas trees out to use as a bird feeding station, the instructions about what to feed the different birds were very timely.

We have finished our rubber booklet and have an interesting one on coffee. Along with the study of Brazil we are making jungle scenes in cardboard boxes, similar to peek boxes.

After reading some interesting short poems about snowflakes, a mouse and deer, we decided to each copy one and illustrate it. It was fun and some of the pictures were quite good.

FIFTH Grade — Sadie Liskum

We are beginning the study of fractions. We had the words numerator and denominator added to our spelling list for the week.

We are happy to have a gym period once a week. Half the period is used for playing with basketballs, girls at one basket and boys at the other. The last half af the period is spent playing games and learning folk dances.

4-H sewing and group dancing are helping to fill the long noon periods. The boys are going to have to work a little harder on handicraft.

Ever notice—when a man gets up near the top of the ladder of success—there are always a few friends steadying it for him?

The Sunday Church School meets each Sunday morning at 9:45. We are now beginning our new Church year and with this beginning we have some new things to offer in our Sunday Church School. First of all, our Christian Education Committee wants to promote a Bible Exhibit as a project for the Church School. We study the Bible as God's Holy Word and there is work that is constantly being done to make this Book more attractive to all people. Not the least of this is the very languages and the different compositions and attractive covers found on it. To know these and to see how it has been done in other generations is interesting and informative. If you have any unusual Bible as to age, language, covering, version, or one that has some unusual circumstance about it, will you loan it to us for this exhibit,? We are sure that there must be several of these Bibles in this community and we would like to see them and let others see them. If you have one, call us or if you have a child in the Church School send it with him.

The second new thing which we would like to introduce and promote, especially in the upper departments at present, is the learning by memory certain selected passages from the Bible which will be of help to you in knowing. The offer has been made as follows: The first pupil who will learn the assigned passages and recite them publicly will receive a very fine Moffatt translation of the Bible. To all who learn them a Bible or some similar devotional Book will be given. These passages will be announced next Sunday morning. Be present and on time to learn about them.

The Church Worship Service begins at 11:00 a. m. The sermon title for this coming Sunday will be, "The Tenacity of Righteousness." We invite all to come and worship with us and receive the inspiration and fellowship of this hour spent in God's House.

The Westminster Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m. This will be a business meeting and several important announcements will be made.

Why Scoop No Longer Works Here

Scoop Blake paid us a friendly call at the Clarion's office last week and we were talking about when he was a reporter here.

"Remember how mad I got when I found out you were writing that election story right from your desk?" I asked him. "And how I made you get out and learn what a sheriff's job was all about?"

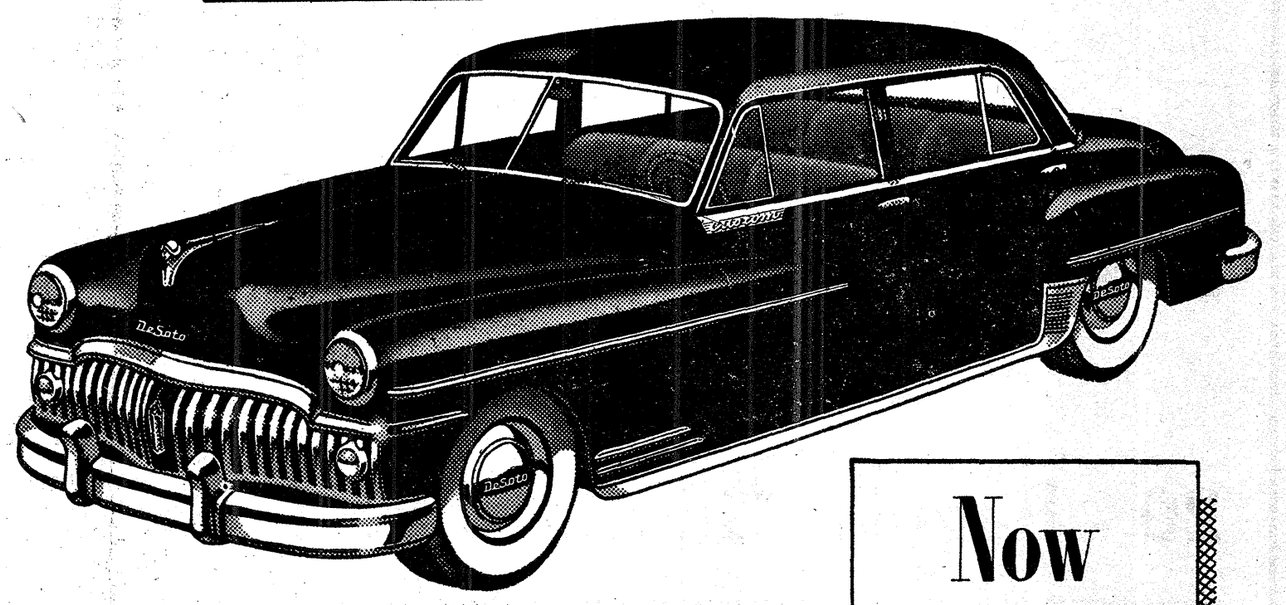

"I sure do, Joe," said Scoop. "I want to thank you for teaching me the 'hat-trick'—putting on my hat and finding out the facts, that is." Then we both had a good laugh because he found out so much that darn if he didn't run and get elected sheriff himself!

From where I sit, we should find out the facts before we try to talk about anything. When we do, we're inclined to be more tolerant ... we're apt to understand a little more about the other fellow's preference for, say, his political candidate or for a temperate glass of beer now and then. I say, if you don't want to get tripped up, don't leap to conclusions!
